

A Time for Others

There is a little something special about this time of year. It's a time for appreciating what you have in your life and showing others you care. When we hear about individuals going through rough times, the community tries to come together and help make their day just a little bit brighter.

Marine Sergeants Paik and Hernandez, from Kittatinny Arsenal, came to Kessler Foundation to pick up the donated toys.

On Tuesday evening, Kessler Foundation held its annual Holiday Party. Staff and Board members were asked to contribute to a toy drive for Toys for Tots. Over 470 toys were given over to local representatives of the Marine Corp. Guests were also treated to a live performance by the New Jersey Youth Chorus. The Chorus is committed to advancing personal and musical growth in its young performers. What a terrific way to kick off the holiday season!

With the hustle and bustle of this busy season, we often forget about those who struggle every day. Did you know that people with disabilities represent the largest minority group in the nation? Kessler Foundation is committed to focusing on abilities and finding ways to improve health and wellbeing for people with disabilities, through our research and commitment to understanding and responding to the employment needs of the community.

This holiday season, focus on your abilities. Help Kessler Foundation continue its research and grant programs so that more people with disabilities can live full, independent, and successful lives.
